Foreword

This workbook was designed by a group of service users from Tameside.

Working through the challenges in the book can help you get ready for independent living and managing your own tenancy.

There's information on lots of different subjects like eating properly, managing your money, keeping healthy, getting a tenancy and what to do once you've moved in.

You'll also find 'Top Tips' from our service users dotted around the workbook.

You don't have to work through every part of the workbook, it's designed so that you can decide what issues you want to work on and pick and choose the challenges that will help you improve in that area.

Your project worker can help you with the sections that you decide to use.

We hope you find the workbook useful!

What to do First

It's worth sitting down with your project worker to think about what sections of the workbook would be most helpful to you or which to start first.

To start you off use the space below to write 'your story' - think about how you got to where you are today, what type of things you are good at and any experiences you have.

	My Story

Priorities

Think about what things are most important to you and what can wait until later?

Important	Not so important
Now think about the things in your 'important coluchoose the subjects that can help you.	umn' have a look through the workbook and choose the subjects that carrier you.

Cereal

Check your answers with your project worker to see how you did.

Some foods use a traffic light system which can tell you whether the food is high or low in fat, sugar and salt.

High Medium Low

Mel's top tip

Eating a lot of salt can make our hearts unhealthy as it clogs up our arteries and increases our chances of having a heart attack or a stroke!

Food labels will show you what else is in your food.

	A Little	A Lot
Sugar	2g	10g
Fat	3g	20g
Of which are saturated	1g	5g
Salt	0.1g	0.5g

Look in your cupboards at home and choose five foods and fill in the tables below to find out what else is in them:

Main food groups

Here are the main 5 food groups that need to be included in your diet

Fat

Answer the following questions...

Now think about where you shop...

Q1. What food group does mince fit into?

Do you shop using a shopping list?

Do you stick to your list?

Q2. What food group does rice fit into?

How many microwave meals do you have each:

Week?

Q3. What food group does yogurt fit into?

Day?

Chris's top tip

You don't feel full when you eat fast food because of the monosodium glutamate (MSG) it contains

Meal Planning

Write down what you plan to have each day for:

	Breakfast	Lunch	Tea
Monday
Tuesday
Wednesday
Thursday
Friday
Saturday
Sunday

?	What is meant by the phrase "fresh ingredients"? Can you give some examples?

* Challenge 3

With the following ingredients write down what meals you can make:

List1

- Chicken
- Carrots
- Onions
- Butter
- Flour
- Potatoes
- Butter

Meals i could make ...

You can change the carbohydrate for another carb such as:

Rice Pasta Bread

List 2

- Mince
- Pasta
- Onion
- Tomatoes
- Veg

And add 1 ingredient

Meals i could make ...

Shopping

For your next shop:

• Write a list

My shopping list

- Set yourself a food budget
- Keep your receipts for evidence and stick into the workbook below

Chris's top tip

Don't go shopping on an empty stomach; you are more likely to buy junk food.

Think about the following things:

Frozen foods are cheaper at:

- Farm foods Iceland
- Jack Fulton's

Remember that

- B + M Quality Save
- Wilkinsons Pound shops are great for toiletries, drinks, chocolate and crisps.

Fresh meat and veg is good value at:

- Asda
 Gabbots Farm
- Local butchers Lidl
- Aldi Local markets

Mel's top tip

Check out the local offers in late shops. You can shop around for the best deals.

Which deal would be the best value you for you!

Baked Beans

6 for £2.25 4 for £1.89 1 for 69p

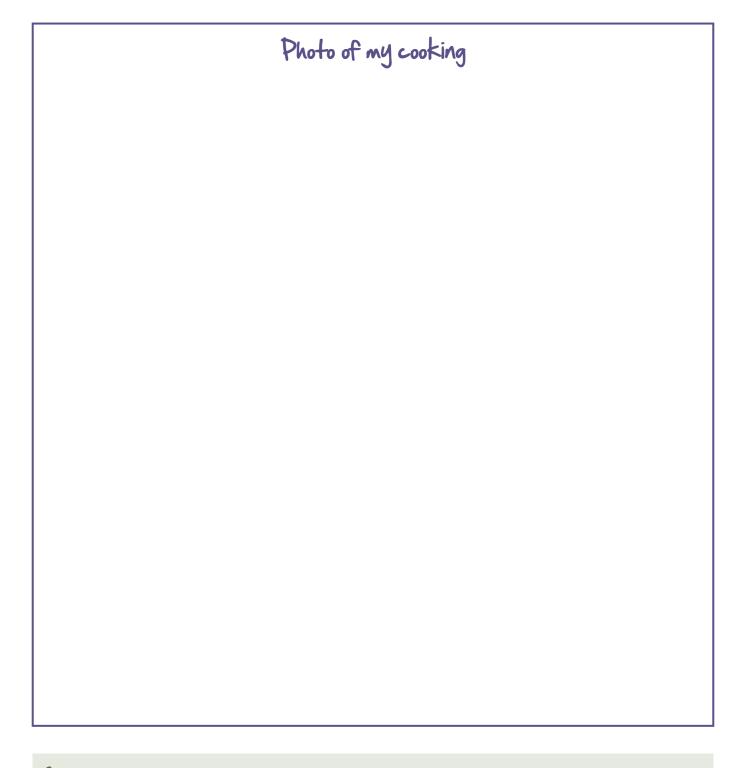

Its worth shopping around for deals like these as every little helps!

Food Diary

Complete a food diary next week

Agree with your worker that you will cook one fresh meal a week then take a picture of your meal and stick it below with your recipe and method:

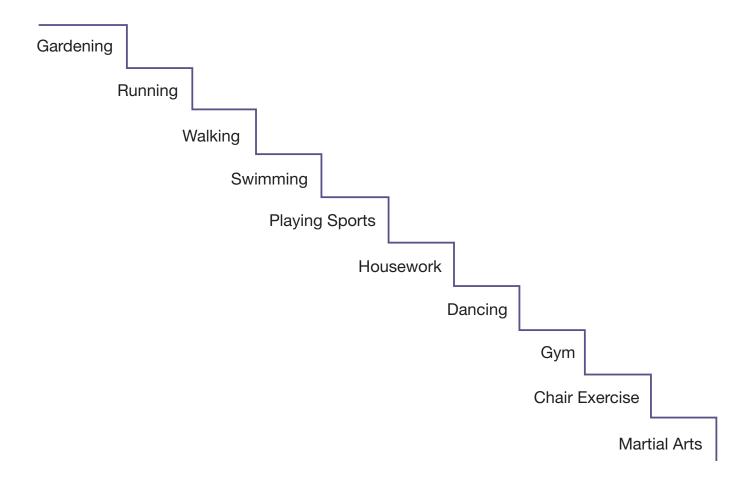

Mel's top tip

Why not go to the library it's free! And search for recipes using theses ingredients on line or in a recipe book.

Keeping fit and healthy

To stay healthy it's important to exercise as well as eat the right foods. Exercise can be anything you do during the day that means you are moving about.

Put a stick figure on each step of an activity you do

There are loads of things that you can do everyday that mean you move about more.

Choose a new activity and try it for a week.
How do you feel you did?

Dealing with a drug or alcohol problem can be really difficult – if you think you might have a problem, talk to your project worker who will put you in touch with people who can help you.

Building your confidence

Confidence affects the whole of our lives. It helps you in everything from your personal relationships to your work. When you are confident things just seem to go a lot better. You wake up ready to face challenges, knowing that you'll do the very best you can.

Getting more self confidence isn't difficult. Focus on what you're good at. Don't be modest. This is a time to be open and honest with yourself. Blow your own trumpet and shine a light on your positives.

Make a list of your strengths

What are you are good at? For example this might be talking to people, helping others, listening to others

How do you feel when you know you can do something well?

Ignore the negatives. Don't focus on what you don't like about yourself or on things that have gone wrong in the past. Everybody makes mistakes. No one is perfect. Focusing on negative things will ruin your confidence and if you are constantly thinking about things that have gone wrong in your life, you won't be able to plan for success.

Surround yourself with people who support you. Its too easy to let negative people tell us what we can and can't do. They hold us back and make it very difficult for us to succeed. You want people who will lift you up instead of put you down. Don't be afraid to end friendships that stop you feeling good about yourself

Getting confident isn't an overnight process but luckily your confidence is something you can improve easily. The biggest trick is to push any negative thoughts from your mind. Don't let them take over with "what ifs" and things that might go wrong. Only you can take control of your life and turn it into something fantastic!

Joe's top tip

Today is the tomorrow you worried about yesterday!

Make a list of the things you would like to improve about yourself or would like to be better at.

For example you might want to get better at speaking in a group

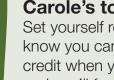

Things I would like to be better at

Now set yourself some goals to help you do this.

Setting goals is easy but achieving them isn't. That's why setting 'SMART' goals - Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Realistic and Timely is the first step in making your goal a reality.

Sit down with your project worker and think about the things on your list of 'things to get better at'.

Make yourself some SMART goals to help you

Carole's top tip

Set yourself realistic goals that you know you can achieve, give yourself credit when you have achieved a goal and you'll feel better because you are taking control of your life.

What do I want to get better at?	What can I do to help me improve?	Who can help me do this?	When will I do it?

How others perceive you

Others view us through the filter of their own experience but they also pick up the images each of us projects outward. We can change others' view of us simply by shifting the images we hold of ourselves.

People form impressions about you based on prejudices and, leading to broad assumptions such as that certain clothing means professionalism, specific actions show caring, and maintaining eye contact suggests that you are trustworthy.

People make judgements about you based on their first impression, once a negative stereotype is applied to you, it can be difficult to change

Carole's top tip

The best way to create a good first impression is to smile!

How to tell what someone's thinking

You can often tell what a person is thinking or feeling through noticing their body language.

Body language is...the way we communicate without words

Reading body language

Have a go at our body language quiz and see how much you notice.

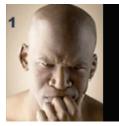

The Body Language Quiz

Q1. Look at the pictures below and identify the woman with the body language most likely to indicate availability.

- Picture One
- Picture Two
- Picture Three

Q2. Look at the pictures below and decide from the body language which person is most likely to have just told a lie.

- Picture One
- Picture Two
- Picture Three

Q3. A single man arrives at a nightclub hoping to meet a female. Which of the following is he likely to do first?

- Prowl the room looking for available talent

- Increase
- Decrease
- Neither

Q10. When people are forced by necessity to eat alone in a restaurant they will often seek out a two-seat table rather than sit at one with more seats. Psychologists believe that the most likely reason for this is...

- People feel bad about using more space than they need
- People are concerned that the extra space makes them look isolated
- They are concerned that unwelcome strangers may join the table and dominate
- People worry that waiters will expect more people to arrive and ignore them
- They may be asked to move if the restaurant becomes busy

Q11. Which group is generally believed to be better at recognising body language?

- Men
- Women
- Neither

Q12. When one person subconsciously starts to mimic the body language of another person, it usually means:

- Looking Down
- Crossing their legs
- Touching their nose or lips
- Fiddling with their hair

Q22. Men and women will often subconsciously point their knees at a person they feel comfortable with.

- True
- False

Q23. Examine the image below and select the most appropriate answer that describes the facial expression?

- Surprise
- Interest
- Joy
- Rage
- Fear
- Anguish
- Disgust
- Shame

How did you do?

Discuss your answers with your project worker.

How assertive are you?

Being assertive is the skill of saying what we need or want, or protecting ourselves from what we do not want, whilst respecting the needs and rights of others. It is being able to communicate appropriately in a direct, open and honest way

Three simple steps to assertive behaviour

- Identify the behaviour that concerns you:
 e.g. "when you put me down about the way
 I look..."
- 2. Identify your feelings about the behaviour: e.g. "I feel angry and deflated..."
- 3. Say what you want to happen: e.g. "and I would like you to consider my feelings and not do it again."

There are a few things you can do if you want to come across as being assertive.

They include:

- Looking someone in the eye
- Your voice is steady and calm
- Standing straight and tall
- Saying what you mean
- Smile when pleased
- Frown when angry
- Talking clearly
- Saying how you feel
- Talking honestly
- Asking yourself what you want
- Allowing yourself to enjoy your successes

Make a list of the situations where you'd like to be more assertive

	• • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • •	•••••	•••••
			• • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • •
	• • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • •	• • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • •	• • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • •

	• • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • •	• • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • •	•••••
		• • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • •	• • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • •

Have a go at being more assertive in these situations by using the strategies listed.

You may feel nervous beforehand but this is quite natural. Try and keep to what you have planned to say even if the conversation doesn't quite go as you expected. And remember, you can only do your best. After it's all over ask yourself how you did. What things did you do well? What could be improved upon? Give credit to yourself where it is due and learn as much as you can from what happened to apply to the next time.

How did it feel to be more assertive?

Being assertive means that you can stand up for your rights without being rude or aggressive.

Your rights

We all have a right to:

- Be safe
- Be happy
- Be healthy
- Make choices
- Speak up
- Change your mind
- Walk away from any situation you don't like

Saying 'NO'

You don't have to answer questions or make a decision straight away. Here are some strategies you can use to give yourself some time to think about things.

"No thanks, but ask me again some other time"

"I need you to tell me more before i decide"

"It's nothing to do with you, but i'm saying no this time"

"No, that just wouldn't work for me at the moment"

"I know I said yes, but now i've thought about it ... "

Carole's top tip

It's OK to say NO. You don't have to feel bad about saying no to someone.

Feel "OK" about it

They are your feelings - your first one is usually a good one.

It is your right to say "NO" so you don't need to apologise or make excuses.

You are saying "NO" to a request, you are not rejecting the person.

Saying "NO gets easier with practice.

Each time you say "NO" mark how easy it was on the chart. Mark 1 if it was difficult and 10 if it was easy (you could practice with a friend).

Getting yourself a tenancy

If you're living in supported housing you will be helped to find housing through Tameside Housing Register, your key worker will be working with you to get you a tenancy ready to move into

Speak to your key worker about finding somewhere more permanent to live and they will explain in more detail how the register works.

If you want to, you can apply for a tenancy directly either with a housing association or a private landlord.

Housing Association

New Charter is the biggest housing landlord in Tameside there are many others

Private

Private landlords can be found by looking in the papers, adverts in house/shop windows, letting agents and Tameside Housing Advice and check the internet

Think about what furniture you need for when you move into your new home

Need to buy	Cost	Where	Have you got it?

There are places where can you get stuff to furnish your flat cheaply. Think about:

- Family
- Friends
- Emmaus
- Mustard tree
- Willow Wood
- Electrical items shop
- Charity shops

Your project worker might know other places you can get help and support from.

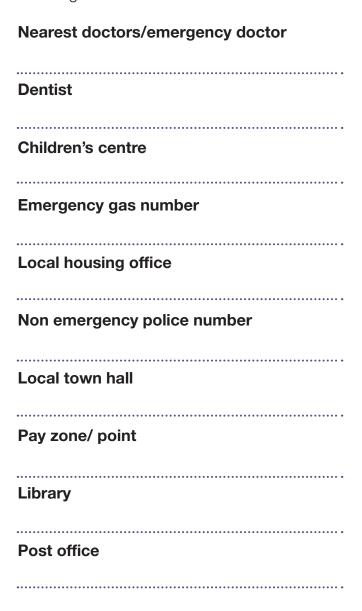

Chris's top tip

Don't forget to ask your project worker to support you to apply for a community care grant to help you buy the things you need.

* Challenge 11

Now you have a place to live, you need to find out what's available in your area.

Find out addresses and phone numbers for the following services:

Paula's top tip

Look on the Council's website to help you find these numbers.

Keeping your tenancy

There are some really important things you need to know about maintaining and keeping your tenancy.

- Paying rent/bills (keep receipts)
- Responding to letters that are sent to you (don't throw letters away)
- Keeping your place clean and tidy
- Letting gas services in to the property to do a gas safety check
- Reporting repairs

Set up a file to keep all your letters/bills in and Show this to your key worker.

Paula's top tip

Buy cheap A4 arch lever folder and a pack of punch pockets to keep your letters in.

Managing your money

It's really important to be able to manage your money effectively. Budgeting involves understanding how much money you earn and spend over a period of time. When you create a budget, you are creating a plan for spending and saving money.

Complete the budget sheet and share it with your project worker.
